

WEATHER FORECAST - EUROS 2020 UYCA

Issue: THU, 01.10.2020, 08:30 CEST

Weather forecast ATTERSEE:

Over Central Europe there are actually poor air pressure differences and therefore weak wind conditions. In the Attersee region today will be very sunny and dry with only few clouds after the fog disappears. The wind stays calm most of the day, with some weak thermal winds in the afternoon.

From Friday on foehn weather conditions will be established. In the morning it will be foggy and calm again, during the day the wind forces up, weak to moderate currents mainly from E-NE are expected. On Saturday it will be cloudy but windier, in the afternoon and night some weak rain showers are possible. On Sunday there are some fog patches in the morning and sunshine during the day with weak to moderate winds from easterly directions.
